How Standing For Your Terms Makes You a Better Lawyer

1 hr MCLE credit available

The legal profession uses terms constantly...

Lease terms...custody terms...contract
terms...terms of employment...loan terms...

Terms are one essential key to being a strong legal practitioner. This workshop, conducted by Progress Coach Mark Rothman, will help participants identify the terms they stand for. It will examine the terms they have compromised. It will help them understand what these compromises cost them. And it will give them tools to assert and re-set the terms that will help them succeed more effectively.
